Beat The Rush

Please give us your copy on Mondays or at least by noon on Tuesdays. We are trying not to get swamped Tuesday nights.

Dr. Bergemann's Death Stuns City; Practice Began in 1961

Greenbelters were stunned to learn that long-time physician Till Bergemann died on June 4 of complications following cardiac arrest. He had been working out on an exercise machine in the Greenbelt Aquatic and Fitness Center the previous Tuesday afternoon when he was stricken. He was given immediate CPR by pool staff and medical attention locally and transported to the Washington Hospital Center, but did not recover.

Dr. Bergemann opened a medical practice in Greenbelt in 1961 following an association with Dr. Aaron Dietz of Hyattsville. Born in Leipzig, Germany, where he attended medical school, he received his M.D. degree at the University of Basel, Switzerland. He later interned at Fordham Hospital in New York City and at Prince George's Hospital, Cheverly.

After practicing in Greenbelt for some time, he later joined a medical partnership with the late Dr. Hans Wodak and Dr. William Weintraub. In recent years he was joined in his practice by Dr. David Granite, who was called to administer aid to his stricken colleague.

Over the years hundreds of Greenbelters came to depend on Dr. Bergemann as their family doctor and to know him as an active participant in community affairs. Many have recounted how he made house calls when they were too sick to reach his office, a practice he still continued as recently as last week. He touched many lives and was a well-loved member of the community.

An avid sportsman, Dr. Bergemann was a skier, tennis player, bicyclist and fitness enthusiast. He was seen four or five times a week at the Greenbelt Aquatic and Fitness Center, swimming laps in the pool and working out on the exercise equipment. He also loved to travel. He had an ongoing zest for knowledge and maintained a continuing interest in ancient and modern history. He loved living in Greenbelt and enjoyed all it has to offer.

He was a member of the American Medical Association, the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland, and the Prince George's County Medical Society. He was a 50-year member of the Swiss Alpine Club.

The third generation of medical doctors in his family, he was the son of the late Doctors Eva and Fritz Bergemann, formerly of Leipzig, Germany, and Bern, Switzerland and the grandson of the late Dr. Karl Rothe, formerly of Leipzig.

Dr. Bergemann is survived by his wife of 48 years, Marjorie Stamler Bergemann; three daughters, Jill (Phillippe) Montagnon, Carol (Ronald) Croft, and Eve (Steven) Creamer; seven grandchildren: Celine, Steven, Patrick, Daniel, Rachel, Ariel, and Jordan; and by a sister, Jorinde Molinari, of Zerne, Switzerland.

Funeral services were held at Mishkan Torah Congregation, Ridge Road at Westway, on Wednesday, June 7. Memorial week will be observed at the family residence.

The family requests that memorial contributions in lieu of flowers may be made to the Till Bergemann, M.D. Fund, PGHC Foundation, Prince George's Hospital, 3001 Hospital Drive, Cheverly, MD 20785.

Dispute among Neighbors Ends with Couple Slain

by Barbara Bonham Young

Asha Rice, 26, of 6156 Springhill Terrace, died Friday, June 2, at Prince George's Hospital Center of gunshot wounds she received on June 1 during an apparent dispute among two married couples who were neighbors. Her husband, Sean Alonzo Rice, 29, was fatally shot in the chest during the incident. The couple is survived by three children.

Police said Rice's neighbor, Eric Julian Todd, 26, was in a parking lot in the 6100 block of Springhill Terrace when a vehicle containing three people pulled up. Asha Rice got out of the vehicle and had words with Todd concerning some sort of dispute, whereupon she and Todd's wife began punching each other. Sean Rice, then arriving, attempted to break up the fight between the two women. An unidentified woman resident of Silver Spring then got out of the vehicle, apparently also attempting to break up the fight. Todd then went to his nearby vehicle, got a handgun and shot Asha Rice and her husband. Sean Rice died soon after. Asha Rice was taken to Prince George's Hospital Center, where she died the next day.

According to Greenbelt Police Officer George Matthews, Eric Todd of the 6100 block of Springhill Terrace was arrested at the scene and charged with the murder of Sean Rice, two counts of attempted murder, possession of a handgun, transporting a handgun in a vehicle and the use of a handgun to commit a felony. He is being held without bail in Prince George's County Detention Center in Upper Marlboro.

According to Greenbelt Police Detective Bob Keller, additional charges against him may be filed since the subsequent death of Asha Rice.

A 55-year-old Silver Spring man got out of the vehicle in which Asha Rice had arrived and was also shot. He was taken to Prince George's Hospital Center. His name was not released by police and his condition was unknown at press time.

Services for Sean Rice were held on Thursday, June 8; services for Asha Rice will be held June 10. Springhill Lake Apartments Community Relations Director Peggy Kane had no comment in response to News Review questions.

Santos Running For Commander

by Miriam Pinheiro

Richard Santos, a resident of Greenbelt for 31 years, is running uncontested for national commander of the American Legion. Santos, whose election will take place at the national convention on August 31, 2001, is a 33-year member of the Greenbelt American Legion Post #136.

Santos, 54, said that the task of the national commander is to act as a spokesperson for the American Legion by promoting its mandates, but not setting policy. He earned his eligibility for membership in the American Legion through honorable, wartime military service in the United States Navy. He served as post commander from 1979 to 1980, Prince George's County commander from 1981 to 1982, and Southern Maryland district commander from 1985 to 1986. He was elected commander of the Legion's Department of Maryland, Inc. in 1990 during its 72nd annual convention in Ocean City. Santos served the department as its alternate national executive committeeman from 1992 to 1994 and as its national executive committeeman from 1994 to 1996. His memberships include the Fraternal Order of the

by Barbara Bonham Young

Cheerful citizen and dignitary celebrants under umbrellas attended two June 2 City of Greenbelt dedication events which went ahead as scheduled, but between bouts of thunder and rain. The first was the dedication of the renovated flagpole, on the Community Center's high hill above the outdoor swimming pool; the second was a dedication of the small meditation garden at the southeast corner of the Community Center.

Flagpole Dedication

The ceremony for the flagpole dedication opened with entertainment by Greenbelt Concert Band's Skylark Quintet, which was led by Tom Cherix. In addition to council members and other dignitaries, Mayor Judith Davis introduced American Legion Post 136 Commander Joe Beam. She commended and thanked him and other members of the post for generously raising and donating $2,500 to cover the entire cost of renovating and supplying the historic flagpole. She added that in the process the pole had to be divested of years of lead paint.

Her comments followed the presentation of the colors by Color Guard Captain Jerry DuShane, Eddie Byrd and Tony Sanchez. Mayor Davis also introduced dignitaries and current Miss Greenbelt, Junior Miss Greenbelt and Little Miss Greenbelt titleholders Pamela Brewster, Stephanie Holland and Shaine Siegel.

Meditation Garden

In remarks opening the ceremony dedicating the Meditation Garden, Greenbelt Association for the Visual Arts director Barbara Simon, stressed the contributions made by many people to achieve the placement of the Lenore Thomas "Meditation" sculpture and creation of the small garden

Fine Training Shown

The very fine training and professional skills of the Greenbelt Aquatic and Fitness Center staff were called forth during an extreme medical emergency last Tuesday afternoon at that facility.

Less than 30 seconds after Dr. Till Bergemann's heart attack, George Rogala, Kenny Gray, and Di Quynn were administering CPR. The front desk staff had notified 911. Dr. David Granite was also notified and attended the victim with George, Kenny, and Di until the medical unit arrived.

We can feel very proud and heartened that the Aquatic Center is staffed by these fine professionals.

Not an Opinion

The article I presented to the City Council about D.A.R.E., that you characterized as an "opinion piece" ("Council Vigorously Debates," June 1) appeared on the Federal Page of the Washington Post the day of the council meeting May 22. The article reported the Department of Education promulgated new rules two years ago "Requiring school districts to spend funds... for 'research-based' programs and to evaluate the programs periodically." Seems like a reasonable and appropriate requirement. A University of North Carolina researcher found those programs most popular with the public including D.A.R.E., have not proven to be effective. His survey included Maryland. The end of the article states the National Institute on Drug Abuse has cited some that work, but D.A.R.E. is not among them.

Of course I hope our son never uses illegal drugs (unless he has an illness, God forbid, that would be alleviated by a drug). Isn't it time to rethink putting lots of people in jail and branding them for life? Do you know the U.S.A. is only led in the world by Russia in incarceration rates? Do you know that if the current trend continues, more African-American children will go to prison than college? According to the U.S. Justice Department Bureau of Prisons statistics, 60% of federal prisoners are drug offenders, 3% violent offenders.

The Republican governor of New Mexico, Gary Johnson, who proposed the decriminalization of marijuana, can admit to illegal drug use, and still get elected twice by the citizens of New Mexico, but we can't hire him as a policeman in Greenbelt.

Instead of attacking those who raise questions about the status quo, couldn't we Greenbelters be more thoughtful, willing to seek out creative solutions to issues of hiring enough law enforcement officers and the detrimental effects of drug use?

Ice Cream Social

Greenbriar/Glen Oaks residents are invited to join their neighbors at the picnic area on the hill for an old-fashioned ice cream social on Saturday, June 10 from 1-3 p.m. This is a free event but people must call to register and will need to pick up their tickets. Call Tina at 301-441-1096.

Greenbelt CARES

The anger management groups, funded through a Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) grant, which were conducted at Eleanor Roosevelt High School have now been completed. In all, four groups were run: two mid winter and two springtime. The groups were co-led by four former or current Greenbelt CARES Family Clinic volunteer counselors. All group participants demonstrated acquisition of anger management skills, as indicated by pre- and post-testing.

During the month of May, CARES saw a weekly average of 22 families, 49 individuals and 17 youths under age 18. Fifty-seven students participated in the CARES tutoring program.

The last session of the seventh grade discussion group at Greenbelt Middle School was held on June 2. Group topics included anger management, violence prevention, personal goal setting and drug awareness. Teresa Smithson, group leader, co-led the sessions with seventh grade counselor Wayne Davis.

Pre-Solstice Walk

A Ranger-led pre-solstice walk will be held on Saturday June 17 at 10 a.m. at Greenbelt Park. There will be a short discussion on the astronomical features creating the coming of the seasons. End the spring and begin the summer season with this 90-minute walk through the park. Meet at the Ranger Station near the campground on Saturday, June 17 at 10 a.m.

For more directions or information, call 301-344-3944.

Greek Food Festival Is this Weekend

St. Theodore's Greek Orthodox Church will hold its annual Spring Greek Festival on Friday, June 9 through Sunday, June 11. Admission is free and the festival is open all three days from noon to 9 p.m. Greek food specialties will be served including gyro and souvlaki sandwiches, grilled lamb, chicken rotisserie, baklava, other Greek pastries, and Greek beer and wines.

The festival also features a live band with traditional Greek folk dancing starting at 5 p.m. There will be a moon bounce, face painting, clowns, and other arts and crafts for children. A Greek grocery store will be there and music, books and jewelry are available for sale. The church is located at 7101 Cipriano Road just behind the K-Mart store.

Rev. Renée MacKey To Be Installed

Berwyn Presbyterian Church and National Capital Presbytery invite the community to the installation service of the Reverend Renée L. MacKey on Sunday, June 11 at 6 p.m. A reception will follow the service. Rev. MacKey began her ministry as Berwyn's new pastor on Easter Sunday.

Pastor MacKey comes to Berwyn Presbyterian Church from the First Presbyterian Church of Missouri Valley, Iowa where she served as pastor for seven years. She is currently working on her Doctor of Divinity degree at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary. She received her Master of Divinity degree from the Denver Seminary. Renée also has a master's degree in education from the University of Colorado at Denver.

Berwyn Presbyterian Church is at 6301 Greenbelt Road, Berwyn Heights. For further information call 301-474-7573.

Kids' Video Showcase Impresses Viewers

by Barbara Simon

"Vids by Kids," a festival showcasing videos made by young people, played at the Old Greenbelt Theatre Saturday morning, June 3, to an audience that was impressed by the variety of films. The entries included live action narratives, news shows, documentaries, and animated works, and were often satirical and sometimes serious. Greenbelt was well represented, but works were submitted by young people from other communities of Maryland and Virginia as well.

In the 15 years and under age group, the following young people received awards: Dacia Bell, from Mitchellville, won the award for best narrative for "Double Trouble at Sunshine High"; Ryan McMullin, from Greenbelt, won the award for best satire for the "Not So Great or Politically Correct News Show"; and the GAVA/GATE Summer 1999 Animation Class won the award for best animation for "When Wetlands Strike Back!" In the 16 to 18 year-old age group Nathaniel Brunson and Rebecca Dupas from Friendly High School in Fort Washington won the award for best documentary for "In The Minds of a Poet"; the Blake Video Crew from James Hubert Blake High School in Silver Spring won the award for best news show with a sequence from "The Morning Show"; and Danny Smith, Chris Holland and Sean Casey from T.C. Williams High School in Alexandria, Virginia, won the award for best satire for "Smash Can."

"Vids by Kids" was produced by the Greenbelt Association for the Visual Arts (GAVA), Greenbelt Access Television (GATE), and the Friends of the Old Greenbelt Theatre. Prizes were donated by Blockbuster Entertainment and the Greenbelt Video Store. The Arts and Cultural Heritage Division of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission gave advice and assistance. All GAVA/GATE programs are supported by the City of Greenbelt, Department of Recreation.

Teddy Bear Parade

Fifty children brought Teddy Bears to a library-sponsored 6th annual picnic and parade in front of the library building. Children ages mostly 2 to 5 listened to stories, sang songs, paraded around the green and washed down Teddy Grahams with lemonade. Someone went home with the "Millennium Bear."

The Recycling Bin

Dear Lorax, I've recently been diagnosed with Diabetes and need insulin shots. My problem is I don't know how to dispose of the needles. Can you help? A Sick Friend.

Dear Sick Friend, The proper way of disposing of a needle is by putting the cap back on the needle and placing it in a plastic bottle with the lid screwed on tightly. You can throw the bottle out with your household trash. Thank you for asking. I hope things go well for you.

Dear Lorax, I recently painted my house and I have some paint left over. How do I dispose of the paint? Painter on Plateau

Dear Painter, You should let your left over latex paint air dry away from children and pets. One method is to pour the latex paint into a paper box or bag, and add an absorbent material such as shredded newspaper and cat box filler to speed drying. Recycle the empty paint can, and then throw the dried paint away with your normal trash!

Mail your recycling questions, comments etc. to The Lorax, c/o William Smith, 25 Crescent Road, Greenbelt, MD 20770 or visit www.ci.greenbelt.md.us.

Police, Lodge #32, and the Loyal Order of the Moose, Lodge #453.

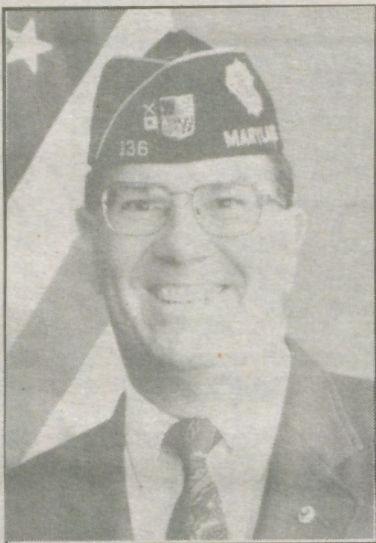

Santos has received numerous honors and recognitions. In 1973, the city's recreation department awarded him with the certificate of meritorious service. Fourteen years later, Governor William Donald Schaefer appointed him as a commissioner on the Maryland Veterans Commission, an independent state agency serving the veterans of Maryland. He continues to serve on the Maryland Military Monuments Commission and received the American Legion Gold Brigade Membership Award in 1987 and 1988. Santos has 31 years of experience as an independent and staff insurance claims representative, specializing in the adjustment of property claims.

Those interested in contributing to Santos' campaign, whose goal is to raise $125,000, should make checks payable to the American Legion, Department of Maryland and mail them to Richard Santos at 62-E Ridge Road, Greenbelt, MD 20770-0740.

Parenting Teens Seminar Offered

A seminar on "Parenting the Adolescent" will be given on Wednesday, June 14 at 7 p.m. at Washington Adventist Hospital. Parents, guardians and anyone who has a special interest in adolescents may attend this free program to learn skills and strategies for coping with challenges.

A Greenbelt Gardener

by Rosie Rhubarb

The weather has been a bit cooler and rainier than it usually is this time of year and that makes the gardener's job easier. I've seldom had to water. New plants need to be watered very frequently so with rain every few days watering has been one job less to do.

The weeds seem to be growing slower than usual, too, another reduction in the work load. The heat loving weed plants usually have jumped up by now. Keep ahead, get rid of weeds now by hand weeding or hoeing the garden patch. Then lay down a layer of mulch which prevents all but the occasional weed from growing in your garden patch.

Grass clippings, autumn leaves, pine needles, bark nuggets, and small stones are just some of the materials that can be used as mulch. By laying down the same material in the garden bed a neat, uniform appearance is achieved.

On the GHI house and garden tour this weekend I saw several yards where bark nugget mulch was used on the ground among the flower plants. The yards appeared neat, tidy and weed free. The perfect solution for a shady yard where grass won't easily grow and for the gardener who wants to cut back on time spent in the garden doing chores, mulch also keeps the ground from drying out in the hot summer sun. This means the garden bed has to be watered less frequently.

Using plant material as mulch feeds the garden plants. Leaves, grass, and bark nuggets will decay and add nutrients to the soil. But bear in mind that leaves are not the most attractive of mulchs and probably should be used in spots that are not in the view of passersby.

Special Education Workshops Offered

A free workshop, "Working through the Special Education System," will be held by the National Alliance for the Mentally III (NAMI) on Thursday, June 15, 7-9 p.m. The speaker will be Dr. Carol Amoia, administrator for special education for the Prince George's Board of Education.

The workshop will be held at the NAMI - Prince George's County office (PG County Police Community Resource Center - Landover Mall). For information call 301-322-1900.

A further labor saving step is to put down a soaker hose and then lay the mulch right over the ground and hose. A soaker hose under mulch is a very efficient way to water a garden bed. Just turn on the hose rather than hand water the bed.

JUNE IS PEDESTRIAN SAFETY MONTH IN GREENBELT!

Pedestrians, Bicyclists, Skaters and Skateboarders often have to share the same crosswalks, sidewalks and trails. Here are a few tips on how to do this safely!

- When a pedestrian sees cyclist and/or skaters approaching it is best to step aside and let them pass.
- When a cyclist or skater is approaching a pedestrian from behind, it is their responsibility to let the pedestrian know that they are coming by calling out, ringing a bell or a horn.
- When a cyclist/skater is passing a pedestrian, they should slow down to make a clean and safe pass.

POLICE BLOTTER

Based on information released by the Greenbelt Police Department. Dates and times are those when police were first contacted about incidents.

Armed Robberies

6000 Greenbelt Road, May 30, 4:22 p.m., a man entered Chevy Chase Bank and approached a teller. Claiming to have a bomb in the bag he was carrying, the man demanded money. The teller complied and the suspect left the bank on foot. He is described as a black male, about 27, 5' 6" to 5' 7", 180 - 200 lbs., with a beard. He was wearing a black ball cap and green jacket as well as round gold-tone glasses.

8000 block Mandan Road, May 29, 11:42 a.m., a woman was inside an apartment hallway/landing area when she was approached by a man who produced a silver handgun and held it to her neck. He pushed her to the ground and took her U.S. Census bag before fleeing on foot. The victim refused treatment for a laceration to her head. The suspect is described as a black male in his 30s, 5' 11", 180 lbs., wearing blue jeans and a light blue skull cap.

Assaults

32 court of Ridge Road, May 27, 11 a.m., a warrant was obtained charging a resident with domestic assault. The warrant was given to the sheriff's department for service.

Beltway Plaza, May 26, 8:14 p.m., a 17-year-old female nonresident was arrested after punching another female in the face at the Lot store. She was released pending action by the juvenile justice system. The victim refused treatment for bruises.

9100 block Edmonston Road, May 30, 10:53, a 43-year-old female resident was arrested and charged with assault. She had argued with her female roommate and punched her several times. She was released to the Department of Corrections for a hearing before a commissioner. The victim refused treatment for dizziness.

Hanover Parkway and Hanover Drive, June 2, 3:07 a.m., the victim reported he was walking home from a friend's house when he was approached from behind by four or five people. One of them punched him in the face. Falling to the ground, the victim was punched and kicked by the suspects, who fled on foot. A relative drove the victim to Doctors Hospital for treatment.

BARC Is Renamed for Henry Wallace

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman renamed the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) research center as the "Henry A. Wallace Beltsville Agricultural Research Center" on June 6.

Wallace served as Secretary of Agriculture from 1932-40, Vice President of the United States from 1940-44, and Secretary of Commerce from 1945-46. He was also a landmark corn geneticist, an innovative agricultural economist, and a vigorous advocate of soil conservation and ecology.

An outstanding Secretary of Agriculture, Wallace framed the Agricultural Adjustment Act, which stabilized farm prices and promoted soil conservation, helping farmers survive the Great Depression. He also launched food stamps, the school lunch program, and Food for Peace program.

As a scientist, Wallace developed the first commercially viable hybrid corn strain, and in 1926, founded the world's first — and still largest and most successful — hybrid seed corn company, Hi-Bred Corn Co. (now Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc.)

The 6,500-acre scientific facility in Beltsville is one of the largest agricultural research centers in the world. A part of the Agricultural Research Service, USDA's in-house research agency, and home to more than 300 scientists, the center conducts research on every aspect of agriculture.

space around it. The statue itself, unveiled by Mayor Davis, was apparently sculpted some time in the '60s and rested in Lenore Thomas' garden until relatives - daughter Lenore Straus and her husband - decided to donate it to the city of Greenbelt. Mrs. Straus, who was unable to attend the dedication, said her mother "always felt close to the city of Greenbelt." Lenore Thomas was the 1930s creator of friezes on the Community Center and the Mother and Child statue in Roosevelt Center, which has become a Greenbelt landmark.

Greenbelt resident and Eagle Scout candidate Andrew Canter was introduced by the Mayor and thanked for his central role in creating the two benches for resting in the meditation gar-

Our Neighbors

Our sympathy to Marge Bergemann and her family on the death of her husband, Dr. Till Bergemann.

Greenbelters were saddened to hear of the deaths of former residents Wayne Roberts and Tara McCloskey Merritt, as well as shocked and saddened for the children of Sean and Asha Rice.

den. As she introduced Andrew's parents and grandparents, she mentioned that Andrew has had a major role in creating four other benches as well.

The three Miss Greenbelt, Junior Miss and Little Miss Greenbelt titleholders were also introduced and participated in the statue unveiling.

Public works employees constructed the black cement cube that the Lenore Thomas Strauss statue sits on in the new Meditation Garden. A square of black marble covers the rough surface. Here the men prepare to drill two holes for steel pegs that will secure the statue to its base.

Megan, a member of Delta Gamma sorority, president of Phi Alpha Epsilon honorary society, and a member of Phi Kappa Phi honorary society, will begin her teaching and coaching career at Sidwell Friends School in Washington, D.C. this fall.

Safety Message

The Greenbelt Department of Planning and Community Development offers these safety tips regarding gas appliances. Pilot lights automatically light the main burner when a gas appliance is turned on. Should the pilot go out for some reason, use the following safety procedures to re-light it.

1. Read the instructions in the owner's manual or on the instruction plate attached to the appliance.
2. Do not strike a match until enough time for unburned gas to leave the room — approximately five minutes.
3. Use a match holder to light the pilot and be sure to light the match first, and then turn on the appliance.
4. If the pilot or main burner fails to stay lit, call the gas company.

Greenbelt Aquatic and Fitness Center ADMISSION POLICY CHANGE

Non-residents will not be able to purchase daily admissions to the pool and fitness center on weekends and holidays unless they are a guest of a passholder or a Greenbelt resident.

Guest fees are as follows:

$5.00/youth (1-13 years)

$7.00/adult (14-59 years)

$5.00/senior (60 years & older)

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

In order to implement these changes, anyone wishing to pay a daily admission fee must present a valid I.D. proving Greenbelt residency. Also, passholders and residents will be responsible for their guest.
